

Make Your Own Reading Challenge

1. How many books do you want to read this year?
2. How much do you want to read each day/ week?
Read _____ minutes a day or _____ a week
3. How many different genres do you want to read from? _____ Which ones?
(memoir, science fiction, biography, theology, Christian non fiction, etc)
4. What are you going to do differently to be able to meet your reading goal? Is there something you need to cut back on? Or stop doing altogether? (watch less shows, cut back on social media, etc)
5. When is your best time of day to read for at least 15 minutes? (Other than your time with God)
6. Where do you have access to good books?
7. Who would you enjoy reading and talking about books with? Who might want to do this reading challenge with you? _____
8. Depending on how many books you want to read, mark which category each book will be from:

- Biography _____
- A book published in 2020 _____
- A Classic _____
- A re-read _____
- Historical fiction _____
- Realistic fiction _____
- Theology _____
- Counseling _____
- Science Fiction _____
- A book that will challenge you _____
- _____ (any other genre/titles that are attractive to you)
- The whole Bible
- Just the Old Testament
- Just the New Testament
